

LCI Research Naming & Support Opportunities

LCI RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The LCI Research Fellowship program awards five $25,000 one-year grants annually to students pursuing careers in lung cancer research, diagnosis, treatment, or care. Eligible applicants must be affiliated with Duke University, UNC–Chapel Hill, Wake Forest University, East Carolina University, or Levine Cancer Institute.

LCI Research Fellowship Naming & Support Opportunities

- One-year naming for Full Research Fellow Program: $125,000
- One-year naming for Individual Research Fellow Grants: $25,000 per grant
- Permanent naming option available through Major Giving or Legacy Giving. Contact us for details (contact information provided below).

LCI CAREER DEVELOPMENT RESEARCH GRANT

The LCI Career Development Research Grant is a two-year, $150,000 award given annually to an emerging research leader in lung cancer. One researcher is selected each year to receive funding for a basic scientific research project with potential to advance lung cancer care, prevention, diagnosis, treatment, or survivorship. Eligible applicants must be affiliated with Duke University, UNC–Chapel Hill, East Carolina University, or Atrium Health.

LCI Career Development Research Grant Naming & Support Opportunities

- LCI Career Development Research Grant – Exclusive One-Year Naming: $150,000
- LCI Career Development Research Grant – Shared Naming: Minimum contribution of $25,000.
- Permanent naming option available through Major Giving or Legacy Giving. Contact us for details (contact information provided below).

CUSTOMIZED LUNG CANCER RESEARCH GRANTS

If you are interested in creating a customized lung cancer research grant, we will be happy to discuss your ideas! Contact us for more information (see below for contact information).

RESEARCH SUPPORT THROUGH MAJOR GIFTS AND LEGACY GIFTS

- Permanent and exclusive naming for LCI Research Grants may be made through a major gift or through a Legacy Society planned gift. Contact us to discuss your ideas and interests!

Contact Us

For more information about Research Sponsorships, major gifts, or Legacy gifts, contact:
Paige Humble, LCI Chief Executive Officer, phumble@lungcancerinitiative.org / 919-784-0410 or Susan Kjellqvist, LCI Development Director, skjellqvist@lungcancerinitiative.org / 919-784-0410